Author's Notes

The system of identification is as follows:

1. Parent
i. Child
A. Grandchild
a. Great grandchild

To trace ancestry back, start with:

1. Name
(1). After name is number of parent
(1). After parent, is number of grandparent, etc.

In this compilation, there are many blanks or unfilled areas. These are partly from lack of public records but more, especially in recent years, from lack of replies to letters of inquiry.

If this compilation results in corrections of names and dates; and especially of filling in the "gaps", it may be possible to produce another sometime later.

There is a gap of about 100 years between the identifications of the families in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware to those of our more immediate ancestors. Many hours of search of records in these 3 states have not produced the necessary information to fill the gap. Some one may be able to carry on and do this later.

While LYCAN does not seem to have produced many men of public stature, it is also true that the family has no blot on its escutcheon. The descendants of our immigrant ancestors have been sensible people living orderly lives and raising orderly families. Those with any drop of LYCAN blood may well be proud of it.

Corrections or further information may be mailed to either address on the preceding page.

LYCAN

In the period 1938-40, it became evident to many that accurate knowledge of their blood lines was important. I then began to work out a LYCAN geneology.

From June 1943 to June 1944, I was stationed in Wilmington, Delaware in the Army of the United States. There is a monument there, erected in 1938, to the Swedes who came to this country in 1638. In digging through the old records, I found that 2 brothers had come to this country from Sweden in the migration which started in 1638. These were:

Peter Nilsson Laicon
Michael Nilsson Laicon.

The custom of naming used at that time would indicate that these brothers were sons of Nils Laicon. There is some evidence that Nils Laicon came here about 1648 and that these two sons were babies at that time, both born in Sweden.

Early records have the name spelled many different ways; but phonetically, they might all be the same:

Laicon	Laikian	Laikan
Lican	Licon	Liking
Laiken	Laycon	Likens
Lykens	Liking	Liken
Likan	Loikan	Lycon
Lykell	Lycans	Lycan

The spelling LYCAN seems to have come into general use about 1750.

Peter was in and around Wilmington for some time then moved north on the Delaware River to a point about where the Philadelphia Navy Yard now stands. At one time he owned Poor Island in the Delaware River and in his will deeded it in fifths to his children. His oldest son was Nils, born 1666 and died December 4, 1721 in "North Liberties", Pennsylvania. Just north of the Navy Yard on the south edge of the Philadelphia business district along the river is the Gloria Dei Church - now operated as an Episcopal Church - and this Nils has the first burial plot just to the right of the front door.

Peter's land was obtained from the Indians by William Penn and consisted of 463½ acres. This branch of the family early inter-married with the Kyn (Keen) and Rambo families and people of those names are still found in this vicinity.

Michael Laicon took his family east across the Delaware into New Jersey and was interested in the Raccoon and Penn's Neck Churches. The land thereabouts seemed better for farming and attracted a large number of the Swedish folk.

From the Christian names used, it is my belief that all who now spell the name as LYCAN descend from Michael and Helena (Ella) who are of record in Raccoon from 1714 on.

There is some evidence that the New Jersey Lycans split into two groups. One went south into the Carolinas, thence west by the Daniel Boone trail into Kentucky (and West Virginia), Illinois and other points west. The other branch stayed in New Jersey until some time after the Revolution when they worked north and into Canada.

I have not found documents to prove such a theory but it is possible that this family which finally found its way into Canada and then back into New York State, might have been unsympathetic to the Revolution and preferred -- for a time -- to remain under British rule.

There was much visiting back and forth across the Delaware for at one time the Swedish colony numbered 190 families with over 900 members. Intermarriage with other colonists was easy and common.

One of the Dutch families on the Delaware side and in the vicinity of present Dover was the Godyn family. Samuel Godyn (spelled Gooden after 1629) was president of the Amsterdam Chamber of the Dutch West India Co. and received a charter to found a colony on the Delaware River. There are Goodens in that area of Delaware today. Apparently a Lycan boy and a Gooden girl married and named a child JACOB GOODEN LYCAN and from that naming, Gooden has been corrupted in later generations to Goodwin, Goodin, Gooding, etc.

By the time of the Revolution, there are many records of Lycan men in the services.

The best authority I have found for the following starting point of the geneology of the Carolina Lycans are 2 family Bibles.

From the family Bible in possession of Forest G. Lycan of Kansas City is taken the following:

Nicholas Lycan

"His grandfather came from Sweden and made the iron for the first sign hung in Philadelphia; and also owned 1/3 of Philadelphia"

Hans Lycan

"Son of Nicholas, born in Philadelphia Nov. 24, 1727. Had brother Andrew"

Jacob Gooden Lycan

"Son of Hans Lycan. Born in Jersey Settlement, N.C., December 24, 1758"

From the Family Bible of Greenough Kimball Lycan:

Nicholas Lycan
Hans Lycan
Jacob Gooden Lycan
John Lycan
Jacob Gooden Lycan
Greenough Kimball Lycan

From the Family Bible of John Micking Lycan:

Enoch Lycan
John Lycan
John Micking Lycan
Grace Lycan Dane
Harold John Dane

In the family trees of the Laicons in Delaware, I have been unable to verify the first entries in these Bibles or to join the two branches in common ancestry. There is a gap of several generations between the appearance of Enoch Lycan in New Jersey and Nicholas Lycan in Philadelphia; but it might be safe to assume, from the Christian names, that the common blood traces back to the Swedish immigrant with the two baby sons.

Jersey Settlement seems to have been in Wilkes County, N. C. with Wilkesboro as the county seat. This is in the NW corner of the state, on the Daniel Boone trail, and on the usual route of migration from sea board to the interior. The census of 1790 of Wilkes County lists:

In the 5th Company-head of family - J. Gooden Lycan
2 males under 16
4 females
0 slaves.

In the same census, same county:

In the 12th Company-head of family- Hance (Hans) Lycan
2 males under 16
2 females
0 slaves

In the same census, Burke County:

In the 12th Company-head of family- John Likens
1 female
0 slaves

From Cumberland, N. C., Andrew Likens enlisted for Revolutionary Service. He died in Fayetteville in 1819.

From Morgan District, N. C., Hance Likens was paid a Revolutionary claim in 1786 of 15 pounds and 4 shillings. I have a photostat copy of that claim and payment.

Descendants of Jacob Gooden Lycan have a family tradition that he followed the Daniel Boone trail into Kentucky into Morgan County and then down stream and east along the Levisa River to the area in or around Louisa. He obtained certificate No. 1 dated Nov. 2, 1802 granting him 400 acres in Floyd County on the Levisa Fork of the Big Sandy River. He is also of record across the river in West Virginia where many of the family still reside.

I have a letter written in Paris, Ill. by John Milton Lycan - a descendant of Jacob Gooden Lycan - in 1885 to my grandfather in Toledo, Ohio - John Micking Lycan - in which the writer stated he believed the two were distant cousins; and that all who spell the name

THE ENOCH LYCAN LINE

1.

Enoch Lycan first appears of record in Burlington County, N. J. as witness on a will dated Feb. 15, 1778. Much search has failed to find any record of birth or ancestry but the above places him in the area in which there were many of that name. It is known that soon after the above date, he moved to Staten Island, N. Y. where his son John was born July 4, 1793.

He is next heard of in Upper Canada, now Ontario. John Lycan once wrote that his "father and mother are buried on the battle ground of Lunday's Lane". This is quite close to Niagara Falls. A visit there found all old records had burned; and no stones or other markers of such ancient dates.

Enoch is said to have had 2 daughters, Eliza and Susan. Eliza married Isaac Wooley and her record stops there. Susan married J. M. Micking of Stamford, Ontario for whom John Micking Lycan of Toledo, O. was later named.

John Lycan (1) was born on Staten Island, N. Y., July 4, 1793, the son of Enoch and Mary Lycan. The following is in a letter in his handwriting:

"In 1810, I shipped on board a merchant vessel "HENRY", destination Gottenburg, Sweden. Arriving off Denmark, we were taken by the Danes under Bonaparte and held prisoner of war and detained for 11 months. Upon being released, we took cargo consisting of tobacco and log wood to Cronstadt, Russia. Laden with hemp, iron and duck, we sailed to Riga, Russia thence to the U.S. arriving in New York June 17, 1812. Absent 2 years. Sailed up and down the North River (probably the Hudson) during the War (1812) and thence to Bushy Meadows, near Blue Mountains, Pennsylvania."

After John Lycan was married, he moved to Chippewa, Upper Canada; thence to Binbrook; and in 1831 returned to the U. S. and settled in Ithaca, New York.

In 1865, he came to Ohio and lived with his son John Micking Lycan until his death. He is buried in the LYCAN plot in the old West Toledo M.E. Church cemetary. He died Sept. 28, 1873.

John Lycan married (1) Sophia Luce born in Mass. Aug. 12, 1789 and died in Corning, N. Y. Dec. 16, 1833.

born in Corning, N. Y. Went west and last heard of from San Francisco in 1861

John Lycan married (2) Mary E. Hurlbut June 13, 1844 in Farmersville, N. Y. Their only child was:

x Charles C. Lycan Sept. 1, 1845; Sept. 27, 1846
Ithaca, N. Y.

3.

John Micking Lycan (2) was 8 years old when his mother died. He and Eliza were sent to live with his uncle, William Lucs, on a farm just outside of Ithaca, N. Y. They attended country school during the winter months but at 11, John went to Ithaca and worked as a chore boy in the dry goods store of Ithiel Eldred. Later he and Eldred married sisters, Lydia Ann Rose and Wealthy Ann Rose, daughters of Wm. Rose of Binghamton, N. Y.

In 1849, John went to California in the gold rush, going by sailing vessel from New York around Cape Horn. He landed in San Francisco and later went to Sacramento and Sonomo and Stockton. He returned home in 1850.

In 1851 he again went to the west coast this time via Isthmus of Panama. By the time he was ready to return, he had a fortune (in those days) of about $4,000 in gold. In Arizona, he was robbed of it and returned penniless.

He then moved to Elmira, N. Y. and went into the dry goods business with John R. Jones. Later he had a partnership with James Gibson as Gibson & Lycan. It was not a euccess and Gibson left for Canada leaving Lycan to settle the firm's debts.

In 1859, he went west to Toledo, Ohio and engaged in the grocery business. Sold out in 1866 and returned to N. Y. State to Clymer. He returned to Toledo and settled in West Toledo and after various engagements went to work for Eaton's Lion Dry Goods Store and was there for 18 years until his death in 1898.

In West Toledo, he had 4 acres on Phillips Ave., kept some cows and the children peddled the extra milk. He was postmaster. In 1880 he again went west on a pleasure trip returning in 1881 and in company with Granger, Shep Lewis, Jonas Stansbury and Samuel Laybourne.

He married (1) Lydia Ann Rose Oct. 7, 1848. She died Dec. 11, 1855

4 i Ellen Rose Lycan b May 12, 1850

He married (2) Donna Terry Jan. 1, 1857. She was born Nov. 2, 1834 and was the daughter of Silas and Polly (Powers) Terry of Clymer, N. Y. They made their home in Elmira, N. Y. until moving to Ohio. In Toledo, their first home was at the Corner of Cherry and Ontario Sts. Donna T. Lycan died Nov. 13, 1920.

John Lycan, John M. Lycan, Donna T. Lycan and others of the family are buried in the M. E. Church yard cemetary in West Toledo.

EDWARD LYCAN LINE

Edward Lycan was born Aug. 25, 1847. He died in Tenino, Washington Dec. 27, 1912. His family believes him to be the son of James Lycan who was born between 1820 and 1830, address unknown.

On page 6, there is Tobias James Lycan; but his descendants are well authenticated.

On page 32, there is James Nichols Lycan born in 1818 and whose age would be about right for the father of Edward Lycan. I have been unable to find any record of descendants of James Nichols Lycan. The last anyone of his family heard of this man he was in Kalamazoo, Michigan. Edward Lycan was born in the middle west.

As a very young man, Edward Lycan left home to join the Union Army. He was discharged because of age upon request of his father; but ran away again and joined again under an assumed name. He spoke later of having met brothers on a battle field. He served under a Captain Logan.

After the War, his estrangement with his family continued. He went west into Iowa and became a physician in or near Boone. Later went to Hawaii and after death of his wife, settled in Tenino, Washington where his records were totally destroyed in a hotel fire. He married

THE JOHN S. LYCAN LINE

The following information is furnished by Frances Lycan Dillon of Holden, Missouri.

1.

John S. Lycan was born in North Carolina and married Betsy Zake who was born in Virginia.

2.

Jacob Lycan (1) was born in Pike County, Ky. Feb. 19, 1840 and died in Wayne Co., W. Va. in 1905. He married Martha Jane Crider, born in 1846, in Floyd Co., Ky. in the Crider home. His brothers were:

John Lycan - a soldier in the Civil War
Mose Lycan
Jim Lycan

He knew Gooden Lycan who lived close by and whom he claimed for a relative.

The following was published by H. H. Hardesty Co. in Toledo, Ohio in 1884:

"Jacob Lycan owns 800 acres of land in the Lincoln district, Wayne Co. W. Va. located 11 miles from Wayne C.H., near Right Fork of Twelve Pole; about 100 acres of good land improved with good buildings and an abundance of excellent fruit. Several valuable veins of coal from 3 to 4 feet thickness underlay the land."

"He became a resident of Wayne Co. in 1862 and has been school trustee for 6 years."

"He was born in Pike Co., Ky. Feb. 19, 1830 son of John S. and Betsy Zake Lycan. His father was born in North Carolina and his mother in Wythe County, Va. and they have lived in Wayne Co. since 1868."

"Jacob Lycan married Martha Jane Crider in Floyd Co., Ky., Dec. 30, 1863. She was born there in 1846, the daughter of John and Sally Collins Crider."

"Jacob Lycan's post office address is Ferguson, Wayne Co., W. Va."

2 sons

Peter Nilsson Laicon — Michael Nilsson Laicon

NOTE: The usual Swedish custom at this time was to name the son for the father; thus, Chris Carlson would have a son named Nils Christenson. Or, Anders Larson would have a son named Jens Anderson.

In the case of the Laicons, it is apparent that the "Laicon" has a different significance, but the custom is carried by giving each son the middle name for the father.

A thorough search of the above named libraries plus interrogation of many of Swedish scholarship has failed to reveal how the "Laicon" became the last name.

Lykens and Wiconisco Homecoming Celebration - Aug. 31, 1946 Published by Lykens service club.

"Many followed trails in wilderness made by men like John Harris who cleared land and built log house where Harrisburg now stands. Among those hardy souls was a party of men including Andrew Lycans..... Andrew Lycans little settlement was attacked and evidence of activities of the Indians is still found by arrow heads after fields are plowed. The 180 acres on which Lykens now stands was bought for $65.97, divided into town lots and they were sold for $11.00 each and the village named for Andrew Lykens as the pioneer of Lykens valley."
